

Perk Gains Ford's Support

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cleveland Mayor Ralph Perk's campaign organization planned to start using radio commercials featuring President Ford today in an effort to boost his uphill battle for the U.S. Senate.

James Foster, Perk's communications director, said the Republican nominee had received a 30-second tape recording from the White House in which Ford urges voters to support Perk over Democratic candidate John Glenn.

The commercial may be carried on 60 stations around the state during the final week of the campaign, Foster said. Cost was estimated at from $7,500 to $10,000, and Foster said part of the money has been raised.

In the commercial, Ford says: "As President of the United States, I have pledged to do the very best for our country. In solving the problems facing us, such as inflation, I need the help of able, dedicated members of the U.S. Senate whose advice and counsel I can rely on. I hope you will send a leader to the U.S. Senate by electing Ralph J. Perk."

In other political activity, Democratic Gov. John Gilligan said Monday published reports of "slush bucket politics" by his GOP challenger, James Rhodes, have become the overriding issue in the gubernatorial race.

Gilligan told a Newark gathering reports the former governor "tapped his political campaign funds" in the 1950s to buy a home and new car leave Rhodes with "no alternative now but to stand up and let the people know what's going on."

Gilligan referred to a copyrighted article in Sunday's Akron Beacon Journal which also said Rhodes used political contributions to help pay his federal income taxes.

"Well-meaning people wanted to help Rhodes get elected (by contributing to his campaign), but not to help him buy a new car or build a new home," the governor said.

Rhodes has not commented on the charges.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer reported today that primary campaign finance reports for Rhodes for the years 1956 and 1960 were missing from the secretary of state's files in Columbus.

However, James Marsh, assistant secretary of state, said the office is required to keep reports only for six years.

The missing records are the reports filed by the James A. Rhodes for Auditor Committee, Rhodes' main fund-raising group while he was state auditor from 1952 to 1963.

At that time, Marsh said, the office kept one file copy which was made available to the news media and state officials. Now the office keeps a master copy and has copies available for public inspection.

Meanwhile, Rhodes' campaign headquarters announced a "Democrats for Rhodes Committee" had been formed in the Cleveland area. It quoted Mayor Angelo Wedo of Brook Park as saying he was joined by a number of other Cuyahoga County Democratic leaders in the movement.

Rhodes campaigned in Cleveland Monday, where he pledged no new taxes, adjustment of state spending priorities to help schools and income tax reforms.

Today he was to begin a four-day, 25-city campaign swing, starting at Middletown.

Thomas Ferguson, Democratic candidate to succeed his father Joseph Ferguson as state auditor, disputed claims that the office has ignored irregularities by the Ohio Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Ferguson said one conviction already has been made as a result of an audit of the bureau in 1973 and another conviction is being pursued and funds are being returned.

Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, campaigning for GOP auditor candidate Roger Tracy Jr., said in Cincinnati Monday there were "examples of misfeasance, if not malfeasance, by the state auditor's office for not cleaning up the situation."

He said the auditor ignored the situation despite the fact that there were reports in 1972 of "alleged kickbacks and other irregularities."

Democrat Tony Hall, seeking to oust longtime Republican Secretary of State Ted Brown, proposed Monday to adopt a ballot absentee ballot to help sightless Ohioans vote.

Hunt Accuses Mitchell

WASHINGTON (AP) — E. Howard Hunt Jr. says a "rude awakening" brought on by release of the White House tapes persuaded him to stop lying about Watergate.

Hunt testified Monday at the Watergate cover-up trial that he lied more than a dozen times before grand juries in the spring of 1973, even though he could no longer have been prosecuted for his part in the Watergate break-in or subsequent attempts to cover it up.

Hunt, free on appeal from his guilty plea for the burglary, was to return to the witness stand today for the first cross-examination by defense lawyers who represent the five defendants — H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, John N. Mitchell, Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson.

As the sixth week of the trial opened Monday, the 56-year-old retired CIA agent said he read published transcripts of the presidential tapes last spring shortly after he was released from prison.

The tapes disclosed increasing discussions among former President Richard M. Nixon and aides about Hunt's continuing demands for money. Former White House counsel John W. Dean III told Nixon it was blackmail.

"I felt a sense of rude awakening and I realized that these men were not worthy of my continued or future loyalty," Hunt testified near the end of his first day on the stand.

By March 16, 1973, Hunt by his own testimony had received at least $165,000 for lawyers' fees and other expenses. However, by last spring the money had long since stopped.

Hunt cited another reason for telling the truth about Watergate. He said his four children "were not fully persuaded that the testimony I had given in prior public forums was in all respects factual and candid."

Hunt, a CIA agent for 21 years who now lives in Miami, was a major witness at the Senate Watergate hearings in the spring and summer of 1973.

He is testifying at the trial as a court witness, which allows Watergate prosecutors to ask questions that suggest the answers. Under that arrangement, agreed to by U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica, neither the prosecution or the defense vouches for Hunt's credibility.

Sirica on Monday suggested that when and if defense lawyers get Nixon on the stand, they might want him called as a court witness.

Nonetheless, most of the defense lawyers complained repeatedly about the prosecution's unwillingness to stand behind Hunt's testimony.

Hunt was faced Monday by assistant special prosecutor Richard Ben-Veniste, an aggressive, rapid-fire questioner, to whom Hunt lied during three separate grand jury appearances in 1973.

In a staccato series that built to an emotional pitch, Ben-Veniste established a pattern of lying, drawn from the grim-faced Hunt, whose voice trembled slightly.

Hunt acknowledged that even when he learned that another White House and Nixon re-election committee official had begun to appear before the grand jury, he still told some lies under oath.

He said that while he recanted some of the false grand jury testimony, he also lied before other public forums.

Hunt said that included his book, "Undercover Memoirs of a Secret American Agent," written last spring.

Earlier Monday, Hunt testified for the first time that former Atty. Gen. Mitchell approved the intelligence plan that ended up as the original burglary.

Hunt said convicted Watergate burglar G. Gordon Liddy gave him regular reports on attempts to persuade Mitchell to approve the plan.

In early April 1972, Hunt said Liddy told him, "the big boy (Mitchell) has given his okay ... and the word is go."

Hunt said Liddy told him of Mitchell's concern about the plan of bugging of the Miami Beach hotel room of former Democratic National Committee Chairman Lawrence O'Brien. By coincidence, when O'Brien left the room at the end of the Democratic National Convention, Mitchell was to take over the same suite for the Republican convention.

Ohio Better Off On Unemployment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio is in a considerably better economic position than the rest of the nation, the director of the state Bureau of Employment Services' Division of Research and Statistics said Monday.

William Papier said current data shows the overall unemployment rate in Ohio declined to a probable 1974 low of 4.4 in September, while the national rate moved up from 5.3 to 5.7 per cent.

"We've been more fortunate than some of the other states, such as Michigan, in that we produce a lot of compact automobiles and have a large tool industry which is going rather strong," Papier said.

The average hourly wage earned by Ohio's factory production workers hit an all-time high of $5.24 in September, Papier said, but still failed to keep pace with living costs.

"Whereas average hourly earnings rose 8.9 per cent over the year, living costs jumped 12.1 per cent," he said.

Papier said that the prospect for Ohio's continued economic security is uncertain, however, because "the apparently deteriorating national

Nixon Undergoes Leg Operation For Phlebitis

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon's surgeon said today that "Mr. Nixon is doing well" following an operation to stop a blood clot in his left leg from traveling any further toward his heart or lungs.

Dr. Eldon Hickman, who performed the hour-long operation, said Nixon's condition was "stable." He said Nixon returned to his room on the top of Memorial Hospital Medical Center of Long Beach for recovery.

Nixon's personal physician had said the operation was required because the clots in Nixon's leg posed a threat to his life.

"With the threat the clot could become a pulmonary embolus, we placed a mild clip ... partially occluding but not completely occluding the vein," Hickman said. He said the clip was permanent.

He said the operation was uneventful and that the former president was "recovering in the normal manner."

The doctor said he had the usual postoperative effects of being sleepy and was confined to bed.

The operation began at 5:30 a.m. PST. None of Nixon's family was present at the hospital, but officials said his wife, Pat, was expected at the hospital later in the day.

Hickman said Nixon will probably be hospitalized for "another week," then the recovery would take four to six weeks at home.

He said he did not anticipate any further surgery.

Dr. John C. Lungren, Nixon's personal physician, said he had consulted with Nixon's wife, Pat, and daughters Julie and Tricia by telephone Monday night.

Lungren was an observer at the surgery.

Both Hickman and Lungren noted that Nixon will be prohibited from eating a regular diet initially and will be fed intravenously today.

Lungren, who had warned that bleeding might be a problem during surgery because of anticoagulation therapy, said there was no excessive bleeding during the operation.

Nixon was given no extra doses of Vitamin K to prevent excessive bleeding during the surgery. Doctors said he would continue to receive heparin, as he had before the operation, to prevent further clotting.

Farm Price Probe Set

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Gov. Milton Shapp says his administration will investigate the reason farmers receive so little for their meat while consumers pay so much.

Shapp said Monday night that a Pennsylvania State University experiment showed it costs 28 and 37 cents a pound respectively to produce meat from two cows purchased and slaughtered by the university.

The same meat was selling for $1.09 a pound at the supermarket, Shapp told newsmen after addressing the 102nd Pennsylvania State Grange convention here.

"Somebody is making a ripoff against the American public," Shapp said after his speech. "We're going to go out and find out why farmers can't make money and the public is being gouged."

Shapp received what one Grange official described as a cool reception from an audience which earlier in the day enthusiastically applauded Shapp's Republican opponent, Drew Lewis.

President Ford Called 'Sweetie'

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — President Gerald R. Ford had some problem adjusting after being elevated from the House of Representatives. U.S. Sen. Robert Taft Jr., a long-time friend of the President, had one too.

"We go back a long time calling each other Jerry and Bob," Taft recalled Monday. "The first time we met after Gerald Ford became president, I kept starting to say 'Jerry...' and then would catch myself and say, 'I mean Mr. President.'"

"I was embarrassed until some waitress called the President 'sweetie' three times.

"Then I relaxed and settled down to addressing him as 'you.'"

MILLION DOLLAR HARVEST—The Pickaway County corn harvest is in full swing according to George Hamrick, agricultural agent. Agriculture in the county will be a $45 million industry this year with the value of the corn crop estimated at $8 million and the soybean crop at $10 million. Hamrick said the yield in the county is equal to or better than past years except on acreage where inadequate amounts of fertilizer were applied. Soybeans are about 90 per cent harvested and corn about 50 per cent harvested. The above photo was taken from the top of Pickaway Grain. Facilities there are expected to be completely filled by the end of the week and corn will be stockpiled in the enclosure in the middle of the photo.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced sharply in accelerated trading today. Investors apparently were encouraged by the market's recent resilience in the face of a steady stream of bad economic news.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 12.75 at 646.59, and gainers led losers by better than 3 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the stage was set for the rally Monday, when the Dow recouped most of a large early loss despite a series of gloomy developments relating to the auto industry.

Armstrong Cork was the most active NYSE issue, up 1/4 at 15 1/2. A 112,000-share block traded at 15 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index rose .85 to 68.27.

The Big Board's composite index of all its listed common stocks climbed .73 to 37.77.

Houston Oil & Minerals topped the Amex most-active list, unchanged at 27 1/4.

Hunt

Hunt said he was told that while it was all right to bug the suite, Mitchell had said, "be sure to get those bugs out before I go in."

Once the Watergate burglars were caught inside Democratic National Committee headquarters, Hunt said he traveled first to New York, then to Los Angeles, then to Chicago, where he met with his wife, and told her all about his involvement.

While in Los Angeles, Hunt said he met with Liddy, who "assured me everything was going to be taken care of company style, or CIA style."

Hunt said that phrase went to him, and he was sure, to Liddy, that families and legal expenses would be taken care of.

There began, Hunt testified, months of contacts with a man known only to Hunt and his wife Dorothy as "Mr. Rivers." The Senate Watergate committee has shown Rivers to be the pseudonym for retired New York policeman Anthony Ulasevich.

Evidence introduced Monday showed that before she died in a plane crash in December 1972, Mrs. Hunt disbursed more than $141,500 to the seven original Watergate defendants.

Hunt said that gradually the money provided by "Mr. Rivers" dwindled to "drips and drabs," and he began making his own direct appeals to the White House.

Hunt said that because "we were protecting the men who were responsible for Watergate," he made repeated demands for cash to White House officials, including Charles W. Colson, who got Hunt his first White House job.

Hunt said cash came to him in amounts as high as $75,000 delivered to William O. Bittman, then his attorney.

When Hunt has completed testifying, prosecutors said Monday they will call Jeb Stuart Magruder, former deputy director of the Nixon re-election committee.

Stock Market Crash Anniversary Noted

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street today marks its gloomiest anniversary, 45 years after the stock market began its dizziest fall in history on Oct. 28-29, 1929.

But even with numerous current troubles, including inflation, tight money and a slumping economy, traders can take heart that the bear market of 1974 and the great crash of 1929 are as different as night and day, many analysts agree.

For one thing, speculators in the '20s had free rein, untouched by any sort of governmental regulation. Since 1933, the Federal Reserve and the Securities and Exchange Commission have acted to keep the speculator in bounds, and usually have protected traders from outright market fraud.

The market also enjoys a degree of stability now compared with 1929 just from sheer size. There were about 1.5 million people in the market in 1929. Now there are about 30 million. If nothing else, panic would have further to spread in 1974.

Another difference, though less comforting, is how fast and far stocks fell in 1929 as against 1973-74. The crash of '29 was sudden, almost totally unexpected and horribly severe. In only two weeks, from Oct. 28 to Nov. 13, the Dow Jones industrial average shrank by 50.6 per cent, to 198.69.

On Oct. 28, 1929, traders watched the unautomated ticker struggle to keep up with a 12 million share turnover, then unheard of. The Dow fell a still unsurpassed 38.33 points.

The next day, even worse in terms of the spreading panic and the volume figure — a staggering 16 million — the Dow slid another 30.57.

"The market crashed at a time when almost everyone was bullish. It just came out of the blue," recalls analyst Lucien Hooper, then of the firm of Frazier, Jelle & Co. and now of Thomson & McKinnon Auchincloss.

"An awful lot of people were in the market on very thin margin — maybe only 10 or 20 per cent. When the market started drifting down around Labor Day, it set off an avalanche of margin calls," Eldon Grimm of Birr, Wilson & Co. says.

The bear market of 1973-74 also has fallen about 50 per cent. The Dow, from a high of 1,051 on Jan. 11, 1973, has been as low as 584, on Oct. 4, 1974. The paper value of listed NYSE issues has gone in that period from $871.54 billion to about $450 billion now.

The 50 per cent drop the market has suffered since 1973 has taken almost two years. The Great Crash did the same thing in two weeks.

And the autumn crash in 1929 was only the beginning. By July 8, 1932, the value of Big Board stocks had gone from a high of $87 billion set Sept. 3, 1929, to a depth of $15.6 billion. And the Dow, which stood at 381.17 before the great crash, sank to 41.22 in 1932.

That meant that in 1929, unlike now, drops of 50 to 60 points in an individual stock were common. Issues worth hundreds of dollars in the 1920's bull market were worth pennies in 1932.

Driver Cited In Accident

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy James Dixon cited Jerry Tussey, 21, Columbus, for reckless operation, when he was involved in a single-car accident, 8:20 p.m. Monday.

Tussey, northbound on Route 104, was entering a sharp curve, when a dog ran across the highway in front of the auto. Losing control of the vehicle, Tussey went left of center striking a guard rail.

The auto came to rest after rolling onto its top.

Tussey was treated and released from Berger Hospital for contusions and abrasions to the left arm and back. A passenger, Robert A. Merfield, 28, Columbus, was also treated and released, for contusions to the head.

Firemen Shut Off Furnace

An overheated furnace resulted in the Circleville Fire Department making an early morning call at 5:20 a.m. today.

Firemen shut off the oil at the residence of George Griffith, lot 131, Morris Trailer Court. The furnace had overheated but it was reported before any damage was done either to the home or the contents.

Orient Boy Burned Playing With Matches

A ten-year-old Orient boy received first and second degree burns over 10 per cent of his body, when he caught himself on fire, 2:19 p.m. Monday, while playing with matches.

Cecil Leroy Whiteside, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Whiteside, was on the front porch of his home, playing with matches and notebook paper, when he started the fire. The fire then spread to some discarded clothing which was lying on the porch.

The child picked up a can, without reading the label, of what he thought was water, and tried to extinguish the fire. The can, labeled flammable, was a factory marked Coleman two-quart container of gas fuel used for campstoves and lanterns.

Pouring the contents of the can onto the flames caused a flash fire catching the front of the child's clothing on fire.

A sister, Mindy, 11, in the front room of the house, ran outside and helped her brother take off his clothes and extinguish the fire.

The Sciotto Squad arrived approximately 15 minutes after the incident and transported the boy to Children's Hospital in Columbus.

The child received burns on his legs, feet and left hand. His hair, eyebrows, eyelashes were singed from the flash fire.

Neither of the child's parents were home at the time of the incident.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Dan Dewey investigated the fire.

Woman Charged With Shoplifting

Janet Fullen, 30, 375 E. Ohio St., was fined $50 and costs in Municipal Court Monday afternoon after she was arrested by Circleville Police for shoplifting.

Ms. Fullen was detained at the Kroger Store, Lancaster Pike Shopping Center, at 3:15 p.m. after an employee allegedly saw her take two packages of cigarettes and conceal them in her purse.

The cigarettes were valued at $1.10.

Vandals Break School Windows

Circleville Police are investigating four reports of vandalism, three at city school buildings.

A rock was used to break a window in room 113 at the Circleville Junior High School; windows in the boy's restroom and the library were broken at the Corwin St. School; and a large window on the north rear was damaged at the Mound St. School.

The vandalism was committed Sunday or Monday.

Vandals used a piece of cement to shatter the driver's window of a car owned by Sandra Brink, 237 N. Scioto St.

Mrs. Trudeau Tells Of Mental Treatment

TORONTO, Ontario (AP) — Margaret Trudeau says the stress of being the wife of Canada's prime minister, anxiety over the birth of their second child and her first active political campaign all contributed to the mental troubles that sent her to the hospital last month for psychiatric care.

She was not ready to be Canada's first lady when she married Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau in 1971 and the marriage was "a total catastrophe in terms of my identity," she said in a television interview Sunday.

She added: "I prepared myself for my marriage to Pierre Trudeau, but I didn't prepare myself for my marriage to the prime minister."

She was 22 then and Trudeau was 51. Mrs. Trudeau, who says she is still a "flower child," said loss of freedom is one of the worst problems of life in the executive mansion in Ottawa.

"It's like being a prisoner because I'm never alone, except inside the house," she said.

"It's certainly not the glamorous, exciting life that most people think it is. It's a lonely life. It's not a free life — but it's a good life."

She said that following the birth of their second son last Christmas, she experienced postnatal depression. She said she hadn't had time to feel the "responsibility of another life."

Mrs. Trudeau said that campaigning with her husband before the election last July left her feeling "very, very weary and very emotionally tight."

She said she was "reaching kind of a crisis stage" when she entered a Montreal hospital for treatment of severe emotional stress.

Seeking psychiatric care should not carry a social stigma, she said. "We're willing to run to a doctor if we've got a cold, for heaven's sake, but if there's something desperately the matter with our mental health... we're so afraid to say we need some help."

Welfare Money Distributed

Pickaway County will receive $19,358.38 of $18,131,241.21 distributed in welfare assistance money, according to State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson.

The amount of $12,576,976.99, or two-thirds of the amount, was to help the counties cover the general relief and administration costs of their welfare operations, derived solely from state revenue, noted Deputy Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson.

The remaining $5,554,264.22 was for county administration and purchase of family and children services. Such revenue comes from both federal and state funds.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Wants Armor Against Goldiggers

DEAR ABBY: I have had lots of problems but I never had one like this, so here goes my first Dear Abby letter.

I am a 57-year-old working man. I lived with my folks most of my life, but they are both dead now, so I'm living alone.

When I was younger I would ask girls for dates, but I got turned down, mostly because I wasn't very good-looking and didn't have much money. Being alone so much caused me to be kind of shy. I never enjoyed being alone, I just got used to it.

Well, I took a chance on the state lottery, and won $100,000. I had never won anything in my life. I still can't believe it, but it's true. Now I've got so many friends (mostly women), I almost have to hide.

I would like some female companionship, but don't want to end up married to some gold-digger. I don't have any experience at all when it comes to judging women, Abby, so how can I protect myself?

E.B. IN ATTLEBORO, MASS.

DEAR E.B.: Don't go in for anything as permanent as marriage until you know the woman well enough to trust her completely. Then see a lawyer about a pre-nuptial agreement. (He'll explain it to you.) You took a chance on a lottery and won, and marriage is a bit of a gamble too, but the better you know the candidate, the smaller the risk.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter and her husband (married only a few months) both go to college and live with me. He is a fine young man and I like him, but he has one serious fault. He will not get up in the morning for his classes.

It breaks my heart to see my daughter calling him, going back to their bedroom, shaking him, pleading with him, and wearing herself out trying to get him up in the morning.

He was dropped from his 8 o'clock class because he missed so many classes. Naturally, he lost that credit. Now he is sleeping through his nine o'clock classes!

I have wanted to tell her to simply pour ice water on him, but I've used remarkable restraint staying out of this daily hassle. Any suggestions?

MOM

DEAR MOM: He's your daughter's problem, not yours. If she were wise, she'd wake him once only, set the alarm to give him a five-minute grace period, then go about her business. If he knows he has to get up-he will. And if he doesn't, let him suffer the consequences.

DEAR ABBY: I wonder how many people realize the difference between the way HER mother is treated and the way HIS mother is treated?

So many young husbands are so busy with earning a living that they leave such matters entirely to their wives, and consequently on Mother's Day, HER mother will be honored, and when (and if) it's convenient, HIS mother will be honored.

Another thing. Let's have a Grandma's Day for HIS mother. With so many broken marriages these days, the paternal grandmother loses all contact with her grandchildren. It's always HER mother who gets to see the grandchildren, and do for them. HIS mother loses out and is soon forgotten.

My son is married and divorced. His wife has the children, and now it's almost as though I have no grandchildren. Maybe if you print this, it will be seen by mothers who don't realize the hurt some grannies suffer from divorce. Thank you.

MISSING MY GRANDCHILDREN

DEAR MISSING: When marriages break up, there is usually bitterness on the part of the wife. And just or not, she usually gets the kids. There are exceptions, but the ex-wife doesn't usually feel kindly toward her ex-in-laws, and part of the punishment she feels "his family" has coming is depriving them of their grandchildren.

Mr. Jim Dorsey, student at Circleville Bible College, will speak of his experience as an intern missionary to the West Indies 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church. He will also show pictures of the work in which he participated in Antigua, Dominica and Barbados.

Popping The Liter

With something of the finesse required to change gears in a Model T Ford, the nation is lurching into the metric age. It is not going to take the plunge all at once.

That, many agree, would be too costly. Instead, if present trends continue, the transition undoubtedly will be one of the most confusing, prolonged and at times humorous episodes in the nation's history.

Advertising agencies already are giving the idea of being first in a particular field a whirl. Not long ago a national oil company tried pumping gasoline at one of its eastern stations after changing the pumps to metric measurements.

It was a temporary experiment, but the customer reaction was not all bad. More people seemed to like the idea than not. Though a number of them seemed to be under the delusion they were getting more for their money (they were not) because a fill up required 60 or 70 units of measurement instead of 15 or 20.

Now a soft drink company says it will introduce the first line of metric bottles in 1975. Customers in this instance might actually get more for their money.

A spokesman for the company says it normally bottles its product in 16 and 32-ounce containers. A liter will contain 33.82 ounces, and no price increase is anticipated. Why does it want to do this?

Because it wants to be first, the system of measurement is logical and it will come sooner or later anyway.

Today In History

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 29, the 302nd day of 1974. There are 63 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1929, the New York stock market collapsed, setting off the worst financial catastrophe in U.S. history.

On this date — In 1923, the Republic of Turkey was proclaimed.

In 1940, numbers were drawn in the first peacetime military draft in the history of the United States.

In 1956, Israel launched an attack against Egypt's Sinai Peninsula.

Ten years ago: Bolivia broke diplomatic relations with Czechoslovakia and accused the Czech embassy in La Paz of inciting anti-government riots.

Five years ago: The U.S. Supreme Court ruled unanimously that school districts must end racial segregation "at once."

One year ago: United Nations troops delivered emergency food, water and medicine to Egyptian soldiers surrounded by Israeli forces on the east bank of the Suez Canal.

Today's birthdays: Cartoonist Bill Mauldin is 53 years old. Ex-major league baseball manager Bill Rigney is 55.

Thought for today: True friendship is like sound health. The value of it is seldom known until it is lost — C.C. Colton, English clergyman and writer, about 1780-1851.

The 1969 Pickaway County Community Fund Drive exceeded its goal of $57,000, it was announced by chairman, Tom Elsea.

A planned dinner at the Circleville Elk's Lodge was postponed an hour because the dining room was used as a voting precinct. The club also held an initiation service.

The Herald ran a series of articles prepared by the Logan Elm Board of Education describing the proposed seventh and eighth grade exchange building and detailing the reasons for its need.

The Scioto Valley Traction Line building, a Circleville landmark that was built on N. Court St. shortly after the turn of the century, was being torn down. The land is the site of the Columbia Gas of Ohio office.

Rise In Toy Sales Is Predicted

NEW YORK (AP) — Sales of model electric trains and accessories should reach a new high of $230 million at retail in 1974, and the volume of home racing sets and accessories is expected to hit $120 million.

This forecast was made here during the annual American Toy Fair by Richard E. Grey, president of a toy company.

Grey said 1974 retail volume will represent almost a 50 per cent increase over the estimated $160 million for model trains in 1973, and a 35 per cent rise over the $90 million in 1973 for racing equipment.

Powis described the bills as being "definitely passable. It looks like the intent was for a rather wide-scale distribution." He said the largest counterfeit seizure prior to this was a $6.1 million haul in Chattanooga, Tenn., in 1973.

He said agents acting on a tip stopped a van in suburban Lakewood and found $7.5 million worth of counterfeit bills inside. The driver of the van, Leonard O. Salmon, 39, of Lakewood, was arrested at the scene, Powis said.

A second man, Kenneth Clarence Wall, 48, of Buena Park, was arrested a short time later. Powis identified him as the owner of Gus Printing Co., of Hawaiian Gardens.

Powis identified the two others in custody as Robert James Spratte, 33, of Whittier and Sam Jackson Anders, 35, of Compton.

Laboring With Love

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Latest communique from the war zone, written by a beautiful young correspondent — Sister Mary Nelle Gage, daughter of a Dallas newsman.

"Sunday mornings are a special time at our Allambie orphanage in Saigon," Mary Nelle writes. "A local Cub Scout troop and Scout leaders arrive to set up their tents and flags on the lawn. Most of the Allambie children participate in the activities, games, songs and dances with the Scouts."

"Several of the older boys learned the traditional Dragon dance for the Mid-Autumn festival, a children's holiday which we have just celebrated. Allambie was decorated with large red plastic ships and fish and stars and birds and roosters, and varied-colored lanterns. Each child was given a small lantern on a stick and came out on the lawn in the evening to watch the Dragon dance. After enjoying songs and dances, refreshments of mooncakes and nuts and rock candy and tea were served. I wish that all of you could have enjoyed the magic of that night, so aglow with the lanterns and the enchanted faces of the children."

"...The war continues, the economy deteriorates, and more and more destitute mothers are arriving at each of our houses, seeking support for themselves and their children. We try to be able to offer some help, though it is small. All of us here hope to be able to continue to care for the children. But we depend upon your continued encouragement and support."

Allambie is one of four homes-clinics in Saigon operated by young foreign volunteers, doctors, students, and nuns and non-nuns on leave from their Orders and their families. The other three havens are To Am Nursery, Hy Young and Newhaven. The shelters are under the general direction of a superb Australian girl named Rosemary Taylor. About 400 children are now dependent on this "round-the-clock humanitarian effort, which is being carried out gamely in the face of colossal odds and against a background of continuing war and its attendant poverty and pestilence."

A number of the children are orphans of war whose Vietnamese fathers were killed or who are immobilized in veterans hospitals. Others have been abandoned by destitute parents. Some are the children of departed American troops and unmarried Vietnamese girls unable to tend to their needs.

It's a contest whose rules do not include time-outs. But almost every day seems to bring with it some saving happening that enables Rosemary and her troops to fight the odds. Life here is a series of cliff-hangers.

"September brought us the good fortune of the expertise of an internal medicine specialist, Dr. Patricia Kelly from Ann Arbor, Mich.," Mary Nelle reports. "Dr. Kelly gave some badly needed relief to our two other doctors, did thorough examinations of many of the children and gave invaluable advice to the nurses on medications and medical practices to employ. (There had been an outbreak of pneumonia at all four nurseries at that time.)"

"Paulette Peterson, a novice with the Sisters of Loreto, is now at Allambie and working wonders with the children there. The handicapped children call her Petey. Her way with them reminds us of Annie Sullivan in 'The Miracle Worker.'"

"Five blind children left Saigon for Australia the other day where they will receive corneal transplants, thanks to the efforts of Elaine Moir and her medical relief organization. Elaine spent a month in Vietnam, locating the children who could benefit from eye surgery and arranging their plane trip to Sydney..."

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — American industry now is in a cyclical phase that requires the utmost in managerial performance by both small and large business, with bankruptcy being the penalty for incompetence.

When times are good, it has been observed, a business can coast along while violating every credo of good management, but such companies disappear after the first test.

Eugene Jennings, management professor at the University of Michigan and consultant to business, comments that many managers know how to exploit good times but few can handle the downturns equally well.

There are few clearer illustrations than the fast food franchises that proliferated in the 1960s, when almost any concept could attract money, and their disappearance in the 70s, when people began counting pennies.

The well operated business, such as McDonald's and Kentucky Fried Chicken, managed their way through the critical period during which Americans assessed this new phenomenon and debate whether or not to support it.

The fast food concept was accepted, despite the seemingly contradictory evidence of thousands of failures, but it was the relatively few well-managed companies that proved the point.

A comparable situation prevailed on Wall Street, where the Merrill Lynchs and some smaller, less known but equally well managed brokers continued to make money while scores of others fell into bankruptcy or liquidation.

An examination of the failure of 64 firms in the process of liquidation during 1972 showed these causes:

Poor books and records, noted in the failure of 44 firms; misconduct, 26; high operating costs-poor controls, 21; mismanagement, 28; lack of knowledge of securities conditions, 18; dealing in highly speculative issues, 29.

The study, by the Securities Investor Protection Corp., found that in only 10 instances could "adverse market conditions" be singled out as a cause. All the other reasons qualify under the heading of mismanagement.

The Bank of America maintains that more than 90 per cent of business failures are due to managerial incompetence and inexperience.

Among management errors it listed were downgrading the need for experience, sloppy bookkeeping, reckless money management, failing to plan, misuse of time, inattention to marketing, ignoring the human factor.

The situation that now appears to be developing — a worsening of recession and a continuation of a high degree of inflation — doesn't threaten just a few industries, but all.

Bogus Bills Confiscated In California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Secret Service agents have confiscated more than $8 million worth of bogus but realistic $100 bills in what they called the largest seizure of counterfeit money in U.S. history.

Four men were arrested Sunday and booked for investigation of manufacturing and possession of counterfeit money, said Robert E. Powis, special agent in charge of the Los Angeles office of the Secret Service.

Powis described the bills as being "definitely passable. It looks like the intent was for a rather wide-scale distribution." He said the largest counterfeit seizure prior to this was a $6.1 million haul in Chattanooga, Tenn., in 1973.

He said agents acting on a tip stopped a van in suburban Lakewood and found $7.5 million worth of counterfeit bills inside. The driver of the van, Leonard O. Salmon, 39, of Lakewood, was arrested at the scene, Powis said.

A second man, Kenneth Clarence Wall, 48, of Buena Park, was arrested a short time later. Powis identified him as the owner of Gus Printing Co., of Hawaiian Gardens.

Powis identified the two others in custody as Robert James Spratte, 33, of Whittier and Sam Jackson Anders, 35, of Compton.

What is a "referred pain"? How can doctors identify it?

Miss E. E. B., Mich.

Dear Miss B.:

The present knowledge of physiology and neurology has given doctors greater insight into the understanding of pain, its cause and its distribution.

Nerves run in very distinct courses throughout the body. With experience, doctors learn to interpret the meaning of pain, even if it is far removed from its source.

For example, kidney stones send shooting pains to the groin. Gall bladder disease refers pain to the back and the shoulders. Ulcers of the stomach may refer pain directly to the back.

Heart conditions may refer pain to the left shoulder, down the arm and to the fingertips.

The pain of shingles around the chest or waist may follow a band along the course of a nerve.

The pain of pleurisy may be referred to the area of the appendix and make diagnosis difficult.

The excruciating pain of trigeminal neuralgia, or "tic douloureux," may be identified by its characteristic referred pain in the head.

The art of diagnosis is a complex one and is based on experience and the interpretation of symptoms.

I had mumps at 14. Could this be responsible for impotence in a man of 38?

Mr. J. B. T., Del.

Dear Mr. T.:

One of the complications of mumps may be orchitis, or an inflammation of one or both testicles.

This can cause the loss of healthy sperm production. Mumps, therefore, can be responsible for the loss of fertility rather than impotence.

The causes of impotence need careful study to find the exact reasons. Physical abnormalities and psychological stresses play an active role in the origin and the persistence of impotence.

I am often astonished by the number of men who write to me about intimate problems rather than bring them to the attention of their own doctors.

There is no shame in any physical or emotional problem. But it is a shame that so many people are handicapped and burdened by the false modesty that keeps them from mature discussion of their problems with doctors or psychologists.

Campaign Spending Seen Heavy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The political trust run by the AFL-CIO has spent $1.4 million on politics this year, its latest campaign finance reports show.

The national trust run by the American Medical Association has spent $792,697 in the same period, and its 38 state committees have spent additional sums.

The AMA's spending is followed by that of the United Auto Workers union, which has spent $763,395 this year.

These were the largest totals spotted in a review of the latest campaign finance reports, which arrived in Washington last week. The reports cover the period between Sept. 1 and Oct. 14, and give totals for the year so far. Another wave of reports is due late this week, covering all but the final week and a half before the Nov. 5 election.

A number of other groups have spent more than half a million dollars so far this year. They include the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, $516,975; The Machinists union, $500,690; The Maritime Engineers union, $552,069; and the California Teachers Association, $576,966.

Those spending more than a quarter-million dollars include the Steelworkers union, $297,317; the Railway Clerks union, $251,909; the trust run by real estate dealers, $272,092; and the trust established by the National Association of Manufacturers, $257,996. A trust run by California dentists has spent $311,045, more than half of it given to state-level candidates.

Ohio Assn. Senior Citizen Centers Conference Held

Pickaway Senior Center was represented at the annual conference of the Ohio Assn. of Centers of Senior Citizens, Oct. 21st and 22nd at the Fort Hayes Hotel in Columbus. Twyla Lorentz, director, and Vera Saunders, information and referral aide were among the 150 registered for the two days. The Ohio Association (OACSC) is unique since it is the only association of its kind in the United States, except for New York. The OACSC is 15 years old, but in the past 5 years has gained membership rapidly. There are 77 members at the present time. Only centers which are open at least 30 hours per week may belong but at the spring quadrant meetings (one held in each corner of the State) smaller groups may attend and get information and help. Individual members of centers also attended the annual conference. Everett Shriver, president of the Ashville Senior Citizens attended the conference Monday afternoon and all day Tuesday.

The conference theme this year was based on the book, "Centers For Older People" written by Jean Maxwell. Miss Maxwell, who is now a Dean at San Diego College was present during the conference, giving the keynote speech "Old Values, New Concepts" and then acting as moderator for a panel discussing center services and facilities.

Margaret Lloyd of the Dayton area Senior Citizens Services, discussed individual services. Betty Knox of Middletown discussed building programs. Rosalie Morgan of Hillsboro talked about involving the community; Catherine Gillie of the Columbus Recreation Department brought information about available health services for senior citizens attending centers, and Sandy Monroe of Indianapolis, Ind., gave some information on casework services.

Dinner in the evening was in the Regency Room. The Hillsboro Men's Chorus entertained and each table presented a short skit as part of the evening's entertainment. Later, the room was partially cleared and the Xenia Goldenaires played for dancing.

Mrs. Ramona Edman Speaker For AAUW

The topic of discussion at the recent meeting of Circleville Branch AAUW was "Women's Role In Transactional Analysis."

Mrs. Ramona Edman, an instructor from Pickaway County YMCA, led the discussion and gave a brief history of women's role in society during the past 100 years. She said in society today women with a longer life-span than their grandmothers have an extra lifetime to spend. Today an extra 30-40 years is afforded the woman after she has raised a family. Women are now working more outside the home and need to understand their relationship with other people.

This is where the tool of transactional analysis comes in. Mrs. Edman explained that understanding one's own personality, understanding why one reacts the way they do to other people and why they react in certain ways in different situations is part of the course "Family Focus" now being offered at the YMCA using transaction analysis.

Jean Droste conducted the business meeting. She introduced four new members and two guests. Beverly Betchel, representing women's voter information committee, distributed information sheets compiled concerning local officials who are candidates for reelection.

Announcements were made concerning the Nov. 13th membership tea, Nov. 14th and 15th National AAUW United Nations Seminar, Oct. 26th State AAUW workshop in Columbus and Oct. 29th study group meeting for those interested in how the community was made.

MRS. DEBRA L. NEWELL

Westfall High School would like to welcome a new member of the faculty this year. She is Mrs. Debra Lee Newell from New York. Mrs. Newell teaches sophomore English and is the annual advisor of the Westfall "Yearling".

She resides at the Pines Apartments, 43 East South Street, Ashville, Ohio with her husband Ty Allan.

They have no children, but, they do have a pet goldfish. His name is Moby Dick and he was won at the Circleville Pumpkin Show this year.

Mrs. Newell attended Wagner College in New York City where she earned her Bachelor of Arts in English. Her minors are education, speech, and theater. Before teaching at Westfall, Mrs. Newell taught half of a year at Staten Island School in New York City.

Some of the things she likes to do are teaching, reading, all sports (especially skiing), music (especially singing), and camping. One of her major dislikes is apathetic students.

When asked her opinion of Westfall, Mrs. Newell stated, "I think Westfall is a school with great potential if everyone works together. The small student body is a great asset."

She also gave her opinion of the student body. "I feel the students are spirited and hope they are productive and energetic throughout the whole school year. Everyone is friendly and they all seem closely knit, which is good."

We would all like to extend a warm welcome to Mrs. Newell.

Kroger Notes Earnings Rise

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Kroger Co., a 20-state supermarket chain, reported nearly doubled earnings for the third quarter compared with the same period in 1973.

Earnings were $13.1 million compared to $6.7 million the previous year.

James P. Herring, Kroger president and chief executive officer, said higher sales volume and the company's efforts to control costs, particularly in store operation and distribution, produced the earnings improvement.

Sales for the quarter ending Oct. 5 were $1.474 billion, an increase of 16.8 per cent or $212 million over 1973 third quarter sales of $1.262 billion.

Kroger also announced an increase in 1974 expansion plans. The firm said it will build 110 new stores instead of 80 as earlier announced.

Arab Summit Meet Recognizes Arafat

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The Arab summit conference has recognized Yasir Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization as the leadership of a future independent Palestinian state to be established after the West Bank of the Jordan River is liberated from Israel.

But the Arab leaders are leaving Egypt, Syria and Jordan a free hand in peace negotiations with Israel.

The endorsement of the Palestine guerrilla movement appeared to doom resumption of the Geneva Middle East peace conference soon since Israel refuses to deal with the P.L.O. Thus, the way appeared open for the individual, bilateral negotiations advocated by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and President Anwar Sadat of Egypt.

After three days of intensive discussions, the kings and presidents of the Arab nations agreed on a formula Monday that papered over the rival claims of the P.L.O and Jordan to control of the West Bank territory, which Jordan captured in the 1948 Palestine War and Israel took in the 1967 war.

A spokesman said the leaders unanimously approved a resolution "reaffirming the rights of the Palestinian people to set up an independent national authority, under the leadership of the PLO as the sole legitimate representative of the Palestinian people on any Palestinian land that is liberated."

"Arab countries must support this authority when it is established in all fields and at all levels," the resolution added.

King Hussein of Jordan and Arafat exchanged expressions of mutual support, the spokesman added. However, conference sources said the king expressed explicit "reservations" to the resolution. They explained that this would allow him to negotiate with Israel without being identified with the PLO.

The spokesman said the summit called on Egypt, Syria, Jordan and the PLO to organize relations among themselves so they can implement the summit decision. The other sources said this might produce agreement between the PLO and Jordan for Jordan to represent the Palestinians in negotiations with Israel.

The sources also reported that Sadat made clear he intends to pursue further peace efforts in the interests of Egypt. He thus refused to be boxed in by any complications that might result from the endorsement of the PLO.

Kissinger Says U.S. Policy On Neutral Nations Changed

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger says the United States government has abandoned its Cold War opposition to governments that take neither side in America's rivalry with the Soviet Union.

"The United States accepts nonalignment," Kissinger said Monday in a major address to the Indian Council of Foreign Affairs. "In fact, America sees a world of free, independent, sovereign states as being decidedly in its own national interest."

First Lady At Show

WASHINGTON (AP) — First Lady Betty Ford has made her first major public appearance since undergoing surgery for breast cancer as honorary head of the Washington International Horse Show.

The Fords — President Ford was there, too — arrived in time Monday night to watch an exhibition of foxhounds and a competition open to riders who are diplomatic officers or their spouses.

The Fords were in evening attire — the President in tuxedo, Mrs. Ford wearing a navy wool gabardine evening dress with a navy fox collar.

The President and his wife sat in a ringside box in the National Guard Armory with a party that included newly named U.S. Ambassador to East Germany John Sherman Cooper and his wife and former U.S. Rep. Clark MacGregor.

Also in the party were longtime Ford friends Mr. and Mrs. Rod Markley and Iranian Ambassador Ardeshir Zahedi, a member of the horse show committee.

Break-Even Point For Cattle $44

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cattle feeder who bought 600-pound steers and all his feed last month would have to get nearly $44 per hundredweight for the finished animals next March to break even, according to Agriculture Department experts.

Prices of choice steers at Omaha lately have been running about $39 per 100 pounds. Economists say those could rise to a range of $43 to $45 on the average during the first quarter of 1975.

Meanwhile, livestock analysts in the department's Economic Research Service have computed costs for producing a choice 1,050-pound steer in the Corn Belt, based on what expenses would have been in September.

A 600-pound feeder steer would have cost $182.94 last month, on the average. About 45 bushels of corn for feed rations was put at $148.05 to carry the animal through next March to reach its market weight.

Other expenses, including silage, protein supplement, hay, labor, veterinary services and transportation to market, would have added to the bill. The total expense: $458.66 per steer.

Thus, according to the figures, a producer would have had to get $38.18 per hundredweight for the finished steer just to cover the original cost of the feeder animal and its rations.

When all other expenses are included, the producer would have to get $43.69 per hundredweight next March to break even.

The price of feeder cattle has tumbled the past year, currently ranging close to $30 per hundredweight in some areas. A year ago they were bringing $65 per 100 pounds or more.

The analysis was included in a livestock and meat situation report for October. It showed feedlot cattle, if carried to full term on grain, have been losing between $6 and nearly $10 per hundredweight all year, roughly $60 to $100 per head.

But the report also noted the shift in cattle feeding practices and predicted that some feeding operations can make a little money, given the right breaks.

"Cattle feeders who have been buying older, heavier cattle this summer and feeding them for 60 to 90 days have realized a more favorable return than those on longer feeding programs," the report said.

But the report also noted the sharp decline in feedlot cattle and said the trend probably will continue "well into 1975" because of high feed costs in relation to market prices.

WILDLIFE FANCIER—Dick Redman, Route 1, Stoutsville, has a pair of European fallow deer, their fawn, a white tail buck, mallard ducks, Canadian geese, squirrels, skunks, ringneck pheasants, raccoon at his home. He hopes to acquire a white tail doe next spring so he can begin rearing that species of deer. He has both federal and state permits to raise wildlife and assist the Ohio Division of Wildlife and Tom Weldon, local game protector, caring for injured game birds and animals which are released when capable of caring for themselves.

Westfall Board Approves 'Right To Read' Program

In a continuation meeting Monday night, the Westfall Board of Education gave approval for Lowell Anderson to participate in the "Right to Read" project. The project is sponsored by the State Department of Education under the direction of Nancy Everhart.

Anderson, principal at the Darby and Jackson Elementary Schools, will receive 240 hours of intensive instruction in reading methods and systems, understanding the learner, individualization of instruction, and design of an action program for the Westfall School District.

Conferences which Anderson will attend will be held at the Fawcett Center of the Ohio State University.

The board also approved the purchase of additional playground equipment for the elementary schools. Payment of this equipment will be supplemented with funds from the local parent teacher organizations.

Final approval was given to the design phase of the new middle school as presented by Dan Milosovich, architect. Minor changes and alternates as recommended by the architect were also approved.

Gordon Massie, local superintendent, made the report to the board of education on the parent-teacher conference day which was held Monday. Massie advised that the conferences were well attended in all schools with the greater participation being shown in the elementary schools.

Board members Jeanne Lett, Cooke Metzger, David Long, James Dean and Bruce Stevenson Jr. were all in attendance. The next scheduled board meeting will be Nov. 18.

Man Yields Samples

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A Winter Park, Fla., man who is accused of kidnaping, submitted under protest to courtordered blood, hair and handwriting tests sought by the prosecution.

Clifford J. Kroger, 38, underwent the tests in a Hamilton County Common Pleas Court courtroom.

Bernard Gilday, his lawyer, told Judge William S. Morrissey his client would submit rather than face contempt of court proceedings.

Kroger, a civil engineer who formerly lived in Cincinnati, waived extradition from Florida last month. He is accused of kidnaping 4-year-old Allison Mechem, daughter of Charles Mechem, chairman of Taft Broadcasting, Inc. Police said no attempt was made to collect a $128,000 ransom.

The child was discovered safe in a motel the day after the abduction.

The case has not been submitted to a grand jury.

Anderson Hints At Trade Of Perez

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Reds Manager Sparky Anderson doubted whether the Houston Astros would give up third baseman Doug Rader and indicated Reds first baseman Tony Perez might be dealt. Anderson answered fans questions on the Reds weekly "Redline" radio program in Cincinnati and Dayton Monday night via telephone from his home in Thousand Oaks, Calif. The Cincinnati manager said the Reds have been without a "first rate" third baseman for five years with the exception of Dennis Menke. Dan Driessen "is not a third baseman, there's no reason to cover for him," said Anderson adding that Driessen was in that position for his bat. Anderson denied earlier reports that the Reds had offered reliever Clay Carroll, outfielder Ken Griffey and another player to Houston for Rader. "It's not true," said Anderson, while at the same time said he rates Rader as "the best third baseman in all baseball."

Asked if the Reds plan to trade Perez, Anderson said, "I wouldn't say they wouldn't if something good came along. But at this point I would say no."

Anderson said he observed ailing pitcher Gary Nolan pitch in the Florida instructional league and Nolan looked good "but he's going to have to get his weight down."

Nolan, who has not pitched hardly at all in the past three seasons, is making an attempted comeback after undergoing surgery a second time.

Anderson was asked why the Reds traded Roger Nelson, another sore-armed pitcher, to the Chicago White Sox.

"It's like a disease," said Anderson, recalling Nelson had continued arm trouble since he was obtained from Kansas City in 1973.

"I would rather have people around who are healthy. Having people around with sore arms is like a disease. It seems like it spreads and everybody is always worried."

Returning to the third base situation, Anderson said if the Reds are unable to trade for "a first rate third baseman we'll have to do like Oakland did with second base."

"We have the people to staff it for defensive purposes then hit for them in critical situations," he said.

The "people" included Darrel Chaney, John Vukovich and Ray Knight.

OSU Remains Atop Rankings

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A winning attitude has helped the Temple Owls topple its first six foes this year.

In recent years "we found more ways to lose football games than win them," Temple Coach Wayne Hardin said. "But we have now learned how to win and have a winning attitude."

Following last Saturday's 21-17 victory over small-college power Delaware, Temple moved into 19th place in The Associated Press' major college football poll.

Hardin cited the Delaware game as the difference between this season's Owls and the past. Delaware took a 17-14 lead in the third quarter only to see the Owls win 21-17 on a 33-yard scoring pass from senior quarterback Steve Joachim to Jeff Stempel.

"A few years ago we might have folded when Delaware went ahead on us," Hardin said. "But the kids hung tough and made the big plays when they had to."

The nation's Top Ten teams maintained their positions in the AP poll, with runner-up Oklahoma chipping away slightly at the No. 1-ranked Ohio State's comfortable lead.

Ohio State routed Northwestern 55-7 Saturday and received 45 first-place votes and 1,222 of a possible 1,260 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Meanwhile, Oklahoma crushed Kansas State 63-0 and earned 14 first-place votes and 1,123 points.

Third-ranked Michigan, a 49-0 victor over Minnesota, received two No. 1 votes, followed by fourth-place Alabama and fifth-ranked Auburn with one apiece.

Southern Cal, Notre Dame, Texas A&M, Nebraska and Penn State round out The AP's Top Ten.

Interviewed by telephone, Hardin said "I really haven't had time to think about being ranked. I'm worried about next week's game with Cincinnati."

Hardin says he looks forward to playing ranked teams in the future.

The Owls have a 1975 date with Penn State. And Hardin knows that it's still early in the season. No Temple team has ever been ranked in a season's final poll.

Archie Griffin Top Big Ten Player

CHICAGO (AP) — Archie Griffin, Ohio State's incomparable tailback, has been named the Big Ten Player of the Week on offense by The Associated Press.

It marks the second time this season the junior from Columbus, Ohio, has won the award.

Griffin, whom Coach Woody Hayes calls "the greatest," led the Buckeyes to a 55-7 victory over Northwestern Saturday as he rambled 173 yards in 18 carries and scored one touchdown.

Grid Ratings Little-Changed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Warren Harding, Wheelersburg and McDonald retained their leads today in the weekly Associated Press Ohio high school football poll.

A statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters, in one of the most formful weeks of this season, placed only one new face in each of the top tens.

Steelers Top Atlanta; Win NFL Tilt 24-17

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Terry Bradshaw predicted it. He's back, so is Franco Harris and so is the Pittsburgh Steelers' running game.

"And it feels good, real good," Bradshaw said after he made his first quarterback start this year and Harris rushed for a career high of 141 yards in a 24-17 victory over the Atlanta Falcons in Monday night's nationally televised National Football League game.

On opening day, Bradshaw was on the bench behind Joe Gilliam, who led the NFL preseason passers by throwing almost twice as often as Bradshaw had in Pittsburgh's two previous playoff seasons.

"Joe's had the hot hand," Bradshaw said in September, "but the time will come when we have to establish a running threat. My style is ball control and I'll wait until this thing runs its course."

After Gilliam's 5-for-18 passing day in a narrow win last week over Cleveland, Coach Chuck Noll opted for Bradshaw, even though the Steelers were atop the AFC Central Division. "It was pretty much a return to the bread and butter," Noll said after the Pittsburgh climbed to 5-1-1 and Atlanta fell to 2-5 under beleaguered Coach Norm Van Brocklin.

"We battled them. We fought as hard as we could," said Van Brocklin, target of a "Dump the Dutchman" campaign in Atlanta.

The Steelers pounded out a season high of 235 yards rushing against the Falcons, and stumpy Rocky Bleier added 78 yards to Harris' career high total.

"I get a kick out of making the running game go," said Bradshaw, who completed nine of 20 passes for 130 yards with two interceptions.

It was the first 100-yard game of the season for Harris, who had a career high of 28 carries, and he gained all but 29 of his ground yards in the second half. He also ran 29 yards with a swing pass from Bradshaw to set up the winning touchdown.

Harris, who had rushed for 206 yards previously this season, powered seven yards for what proved to be the winning touchdown in the final quarter.

Earl Anthony Wins Bowling Tournament

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "I'm just going to concentrate on bowling well for the rest of the season," a beaming Earl Anthony said Monday night after he set a new professional bowling season earnings record.

Anthony had just captured the Canada Dry Open and the $5,000 first prize to boost his 1974 winnings to $88,255 and eclipse the $85,065 Professional Bowlers Association record set by Johnny Petraglia in 1971.

Wellington, 8-0-0, moved into the Class AA top ten, seizing the 10th spot. Shelby dropped from seventh to 13th, losing to Tiffin Columbian 21-14 to make room for Wellington.

In Class A, Lisbon Anderson advanced one spot to 10th, switching places with Montpelier, a 12-8 victim of Archbold last week.

Warren Harding piled up 246 points to keep the Class AAA lead. Canton McKinley, the big school leader earlier in the season, again was No. 2 with 222 points and Cincinnati Moeller, also 8-0-0, third with 173 points.

Wheelersburg had the closest fight on its hand. The Class AA leaders owned 196 points, only eight in front of runnerup Minerva. Both are 8-0-0. Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary, 7-1-0, was third with 162 points.

In Class A, leading McDonald earned 197 points, Runnerup Bluffton 180 and third-place Windham 177.

Upper Arlington retained the fourth spot in Class AAA with Warren Western Reserve moving into a fifth-place deadlock with Cincinnati Elder.

Dover was seventh, New Philadelphia eighth and Youngstown Mooney ninth.

In Class AA, Toronto held on to fourth, followed by Dayton Jefferson, Norwalk, Cincinnati Wyoming, Louisville Aquinas, Columbus Waterson and Wellington.

In Class A, Windham jumped a notch to No. 4 and Canal Winchester two spots to fifth. Covington kept the sixth spot, Midvale Indian Valley North leaped two positions to seventh, Newark Catholic kept eighth, Plain City Alder tumbled from third to ninth and Lisbon Anderson was No. 10.

Your Horoscope Television Schedule

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Planetary restrictions lift now so you will find achievement considerably easier. Not only should routine matters go well, but you may even have an opportunity to cash in on an avocational skill.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Though many means for advancement exist, you COULD throw a wrench into the machinery if your attitudes are suspicious, your approaches tactless. Beware!

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Place your confidence in hard facts rather than "feelings" and, in discussions with others, don't be overly imaginative. You could read too much in their words.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Personal relationships should be highly congenial now. In fact, some of your brighter and more amusing companions could give you some stimulating ideas.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Great activity indicated in your area — which should prove highly stimulating. Especially favored: creative interests, community projects, travel plans.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Stars warn against vacillating, changing plans or projects before they have been given a chance to prove themselves. Be steadfast, optimistic.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Skepticism could defeat the fully charged action this day deserves. Believe in yourself and in your goals — and keep forging ahead.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Stellar influences now favor novel pursuits, imaginative revitalizing of all interests. Display your talents in marketable areas.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Avoid being led astray by those who are heedless of consequences, careless of responsibilities. You will face more distractions than you think, so keep up your guard.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You rarely imitate, preferring to produce in your own way. However, this day will require more attention to others' methods and know-how.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Express your ideas and opinions discreetly but firmly. Don't leave stones unturned which may have gems beneath. A generally good day — if you cooperate.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A conservative and prudent attitude will keep you from going overboard through misguided enthusiasm — a tendency now. Be especially cautious in romantic matters.

YOU BORN TODAY are extremely versatile and could make a success in any one of many fields. You have an excellent mind and an outgoing personality; could, if you make the best use of your potentials, become a leader in any line you choose. In literature, your work would have a highly dramatic quality; in medicine, you could cure not only the body but the mind; in the legal field, your sense of the dramatic would make you an outstanding trial lawyer. You have a definite affinity for science; also outstanding financial acumen. Statesmanship and agriculture are other fine outlets for your talents. Birthdate of: John Adams, 2nd Pres., U.S.A.; Richard B. Sheridan, Irish dramatist.

KSU Trial Resumes; Set Statements

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The trial of eight former Ohio National Guardsmen indicted in the 1970 Kent State University shootings resumes today after a four-day recess, with opening statements scheduled.

The trial was recessed by U.S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti Thursday after a jury of eight men and four women and six alternate jurors were seated following four days of examining about 60 prospects.

He said today would be taken up with opening arguments by government and defense attorneys and that the jury would visit the Kent State campus Wednesday.

Presentation of evidence probably will begin Thursday, the judge said.

On their visit to the campus the jurors will see where four students were killed and nine others wounded by National Guard troops on May 4, 1970.

The shooting incident erupted during a confrontation of the guardsmen and rock-throwing antiwar demonstrators. It ended four days of student protests of U.S. military involvement in Cambodia.

Battisti told the jurors before the Thursday recess that what they see on the campus will not be evidence in the trial. He said the case must be decided on the evidence presented in the courtroom and his instructions on the law applicable to the case.

A federal grand jury indicted the defendants under civil rights statutes last March 29 after spending nearly three months investigating the shootings.

The ex-guardsmen are charged with violating the rights of and assaulting and intimidating the students killed or wounded.

Twisters Hit Oklahoma, Louisiana

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tornadoes hit parts of Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma killing at least two persons.

The Acadia Parish Sheriff's Office in Crowley, La., confirmed there was one dead. The dead victim was not immediately identified.

In Texas, a tornado struck the south end of the Baytown Tunnel between Baytown and La Porte, route of the only major thoroughfare from that vicinity into Houston, just to the west. The twister smashed the car of Theo Hines, 60, of Houston, killing him. Six others were injured, some seriously.

Officers said 12 cars were hurled against one another and against a wall at the entrance to the tunnel, which was blocked for more than 2½ hours during the evening rush hour.

Other tornadoes were reported Kenner, La., near Cameron, La., and at Newlano in Central Louisiana. Power was reported out in much of the Crowley area.

Another tornado hit near Oilton, Okla., damaging or destroying nine mobile homes, but no injuries were reported.

Teays Valley Board Discusses Bond Issue

The upcoming bond issue was one of the prime topics discussed by the Teays Valley Board of Education at its regular meeting Monday night. Local superintendent Benis Lutz advised the board that many of the administrative members were holding coffee hours with various organizations in the area and 26 such get-togethers have been held so far.

Members of the citizens' committee have also worked on projects of notifying the voting public as to the need for the issue. One question posed by a visitor at the board meeting was the sewage problem of a new building.

Board member William Hinkle said that really there would not be so much more of a problem because basically the same number of students would occupy a new facility as presently occupy the junior high session at the high school. It was the general feeling that the waste plant would come under the building program.

The board also opened bids on two old school buses and took the highest two bids. One bid for $1,000 came from the Church of Christ in Christian Union of Ashville. The top bids of $1,654.89 for bus number 26, the 1965 Ford, and $1,497.68 for bus number 10, the 1965 Dodge, were accepted from the Dayton Baptist Temple.

Two negative votes were cast regarding the approval of a policy on professional leave. The resolution passed authorizing the administration to approve professional leave if the request falls in the period between board meetings. The policy will conform with Senate Bill 436 and will only be used when the board meeting does not fall within the time to allow regular procedure for approval.

Prior to this time the law has allowed the administration to authorize personal leave but not professional leave. The board will then act on the superintendent's approval retrospectively in each case.

High School Baccalaureate was officially set for May 25 and commencement on June 1. The board also approved June 4 as the commencement date for the junior high.

Junior high principal Robert Jenkins recommended to the board that an eighth grade student be expelled for the remainder of the semester due to his excessive truancy and incorrigible behavior. Jenkins related to the board that he had tried many outlets to help the boy including tutoring, high school students assigned to help him and the Occupational Work Adjustment program.

The youth has been absent from school for 20½ of the first 29 days of the first grading period and his whereabouts are presently unknown. The board agreed to expel him but stipulated that the case be referred to the Pickaway County Juvenile Court. Several factors were against the boy including a record of suspensions for smoking and for destruction of school property.

A resolution was approved to continue in the present depository arrangement with the Ashville and the Citizens' Bank. Last year the Ashville Bank was given the general fund and the Citizens' Bank the payroll account and at that time it was decided the banks would switch the accounts this year. Due to the fact that both banks agreed to keep the arrangement as it is, the board voted to continue in the original fashion.

In addition to the young farmer program, the board authorized the establishment of an adult farmer program at the high school and to employ the instructor for each program. Fifty per cent of the cost of the program will be reimbursed by the State Department of Education. Lutz advised the board that the program usually does not begin until the middle of November and runs into February.

Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Susan Scribner as teacher in the Ashville Elementary School and from Phillip Brown as night custodian at the high school. Mrs. Scribner's resignation is effective at the end of the day on Nov. 27 and pregnancy was cited as the reason for her leaving. Brown's duties ceased on Oct. 22 at the end of that working day.

With the vacancy existing in both the night custodial position and the guidance secretary position, the board authorized the administration to place personnel on these jobs at the substitute rate until such time as regular employment selections are made.

Five transfers were approved involving $300 from playground supplies to janitorial supplies; $50 from educational equipment to administrative office equipment; $3,000 from the contingency fund to building repairs; $650 from trash hauling to educational equipment repairs for a piano cover; $50 from playground equipment to physical education equipment.

Due to the extra money coming from the state's surplus in the general fund, the board authorized the filing of a supplemental appropriation measure with the county auditor. The amended appropriation measure for the calendar year of 1974 was changed from the estimated $2,356,944.59 to $2,414,957.99 for the balance of the year and is divided as follows: additional $5,000 in the janitorial supplies; additional $8,000 in the building and grounds maintenance fund; $30,000 additional to school building repairs; $5,013.40 added to contingency fund; $10,000 in the improvement of sites.

The rates of taxation as established by the budget commission for the 1974 tax year were authorized to be applied in the 1975 calendar year. The tax rates are as follows: 3.7 inside the 10 mill limitation; 20.6 outside the 10 mill limitation; 1.40 joint vocational school for a total of 25.70 for operation of all schools; 2.30 local bond indebtedness; .40 joint vocational bond indebtedness for a grand total of 28.40. The figure represents .30 less than last year's rates and that reduction is in the Eastland Joint Vocational bond indebtedness.

An agreement was approved for 25 cents per pupil totaling $702.50 for the 2,810 pupils in the Satellite Media Services of the county board of education.

John Robinson was officially approved to transport students to special schools in Columbus. The board also authorized payment being made to him and the state reimbursement to be filed.

Supplemental tutoring was approved for three students and Mrs. Doris Schimf approved at the rate of $4 per hour for tutoring one hour per pupil per day. The State Department of Education will reimburse the local board 50 per cent of the amount paid. These three pupils have been identified as having behavioral disabilities.

The use of the Walnut gym for the PPG plant employees was approved provided there is no conflict with school activities. The rate of $8 per hour was established, $4 for the use of the building and $4 to pay David Barnett for supervision.

Carl Zeimer's position as custodian at Scioto School was declared open. Termination of position was effective Oct. 3. Dewey Patrick was approved as a replacement as of Oct. 15. He was placed on the custodial salary schedule with three years experience credit at the rate of $2.85 per hour and for the pro-rated salary of the balance of the calendar of $5,950.80.

Six extra hours into September were approved for payment at the rate of $2.65 per hour to John Karg for painting and other repairs.

The supplemental contract for Mrs. Patricia Pontius for processing Title I program materials was pro-rated in the amount of $150 left from the amount set aside for this duty. Mrs.

Esther Duvall had retired from the position after serving one fourth of the year and thus drew one fourth of the $200 in the fund.

The following were approved for attendance to professional meetings: Mrs. Judith Roush and Mrs. Beth Dague, Home Economics Supervising Teachers' Conference Nov. 3 in Columbus and reimbursement at the rate of $5 each for the Vocational Home Economics Teachers' Conference; four members of the library staff to the Ohio Association of School Librarians in Columbus; David Barnett to a workshop on corporal punishment in Columbus on Nov. 6.

Additional board members other than the delegates were approved for attendance to the Ohio School Board Association Capital Conference Nov. 12-14.

Substitute teacher lists five and six were approved as submitted by the county office.

Approval was given to amend a previous action concerning the transportation of three children to the Franklin County line. The board will pay the father of these children for transporting them to the county line where they will make connection with the Southwestern City Schools bus. The payment will be made at the end of the year based on the average cost per pupil for transportation in the state for the previous school year. The board will receive state reimbursement for the payment.

All the principals reported to the board that the parent-teacher conferences in their respective buildings had been a success. Conferences were held at the high school and junior high school in the afternoon and evening.

The board concluded its meeting with discussions of several items including the alternatives for kindergarten for the 1975-76 school year. Lutz advised the board action would need to be taken at a later time but at present there were several alternatives about which they could be thinking.

Lutz also advised the board the hearing on the north-end sewer district case had been continued but no date had been established at this time.

Mrs. Davis has received approval for disability retirement.

Board members present were Dr. Jack Werner, Everett Beers, Janet Black, William Hinkle and Harold Peters.
